Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 7-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Duer (US 3,874,250).

Regarding claims 7 and 12, Duer teaches a differential assembly comprising a differential case (10), a pairs of side gears (34), a pair of pinion gears (22) coupled to a pinion shaft (18), a biasing element (40) comprising a center section (44) defining a center opening (A) (see the Figure below), a pair of legs (42) disposed on each side of the center section (44), each of the legs defining a cavity (A') having an open side (B) and wherein each of the center opening (A) and the open sides (B) face the same direction (i.e., upward direction).

Regarding claim 8, the biasing element further includes an insertion side (C), the center opening (A) further includes an insertion opening (D), the open sides (B) and the insertion opening (D) are located on the insertion side (C).

Regarding claims 9, 10, 13 and 14, the center section (44) further defines a base (E) and a pair of side walls (F) extending from the base (E), each of the side walls includes engagement detents (G) being opposing arcuate segments defined by the side walls (F), the pinion shaft (18) is seated within the opposing arcuate segments (G).

Art Unit: 3681

Regarding claims 11 and 15, the center section (44) includes a side opening (H) in each of the side walls (F), the openings (H) further defining the cavities (A').

Regarding claim 16, the differential further includes a pair of output shafts (26) coupled to the side gears and being disposable within the cavities (A').

Cited Prior Art

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure: Bossuet'883, Fitzner'592, Holdeman'560, and Engle'861 which each shows a differential gear including a biasing element for biasing the side gears.

Communication

7. Submission of your response by facsimile transmission is encouraged. The fax phone numbers for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned are (703) 872-9326 for regular communications and (703) 872-9327 for After Final communications. Recognizing the fact that reducing cycle time in the processing and examination of patent applications will effectively increase a patent's term, it is to your benefit to submit responses by facsimile transmission whenever permissible. Such submission will place the response directly in our examining group's hands and will eliminate Post Office processing and delivery time as well as the PTO's mail room processing and delivery time. For a complete list of correspondence not permitted by facsimile transmission, see M.P.E.P. 502.01. In general, most responses and/or amendments not requiring a fee, as well as those requiring a fee but charging such fee to a deposit account, can be submitted by facsimile transmission. Responses requiring a fee which applicant is paying by check should not be submitting by facsimile transmission separately from the check. Responses submitted by facsimile transmission should include a Certificate of Transmission (M.P.E.P. 512). The following is an example of the format the certification might take:

I hereby certify that this correspondence is being facsimile transmitted to the Patent and Trademark Office on _____

(Date)

Typed or printed name of person signing this certificate:

Art Unit: 3681

(Signature)

If your response is submitted by facsimile transmission, you are hereby reminded that the original should be retained as evidence of authenticity (37 CFR 1.4 and M.P.E.P. 502.02). Please do not separately mail the original or another copy unless required by the Patent and Trademark Office. Submission of the original response or a follow-up copy of the response after your response has been transmitted by facsimile will only cause further unnecessary delays in the processing of your application; duplicate responses where fees are charged to a deposit account may result in those fees being charged twice.
